Dear Parents and Carers,

We are pleased to share that today we are launching a new consultation, and we warmly invite you to take part and share your views.

In response to increasing local demand for specialist school places, Cornwall Council has approved the development of a new Area Resource Base at Newquay Primary Academy. This reflects the strong progress we have made in placing inclusion at the heart of our work, and it opens up valuable opportunities to further strengthen the support, expertise and resources available within our school.

We believe this proposal will enhance provision not only for pupils with EHCPs for Speech, Language and Communication needs (SLCN) and/or autism at Newquay Primary Academy, but also for all learners who may benefit from additional support. It will also help ensure that more families within our community can access a suitable school place for their children.

I feel confident that this development will have a positive impact on our pupils, staff and wider community. We hope you will feel able to support it. At the same time, we recognise that you may have questions or concerns, and your feedback is an important part of this process.

To support this, we would like to invite you to a consultation meeting with myself and members of CELT Executive Leadership Team at Newquay Primary Academy on Wednesday 29th April at 3pm. This will provide an opportunity to ask questions and discuss the proposal together.

The consultation will remain open for three weeks. After this period, all responses will be anonymised and carefully reviewed before being submitted to the Department for Education, who will make the final decision. We will, of course, share the outcome with you as soon as it is available.

Full details of the proposal, along with a link to the consultation questionnaire, can be found on our website here: <https://www.newquayprimary.net>.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support. I look forward to hearing your views and to working together over the coming weeks.

Kind regards,
